

Pālolo

C A7 D7
Ho'i ke aloha a i Pālolo
I ka ua Līlīehua e kilihune nei

Love returns to Pālolo
To the Līlīehua rain misting down

C A7 D7
Ka ua nō ia 'olu ka mana'o
Hō'oni a'e nei i ku'u pu'uwai

It is the rain that soothes the mind
Stirring up feelings in my heart

C A7 D7
Kani a ka leo o ke kolohala
I ka ulu kukui honehone nei

The call of the pheasant sounds
Melodious in the kukui groves

C A7 D7
Pumehana kāua i ke aloha
I ka pili i ke anu o ke kuahiwi

You and I are warmed by love
Together in the cold of the mountain

C A7 D7
Ua lawa kāua e ke aloha
Honi iho nei ho'i i ka pu'uwai

We two are satisfied my love
Having been touched in the heart

C A7 D7
Ha'ina 'ia mai ana ka puana
I ka ua Līlīehua e kilihune nei

Tell the story through the refrain
Of the Līlīehua rain misting down

Līlīehua is the name of a chilly rain and wind, famous in Pālolo, O'ahu, referred to in this song by Charles E. King. 1917.
